This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. You can search through the full text of this book on the web at `http://books.google.com/` edge. If they have more time than is requisite for this purpose, instructers are desired and advised, for obvious reasons, not to anticipate the College studies, but rather to extend their studies to other authors.

The examination for the Freshman Class occupies two days, and takes place on the Monday and Tuesday (the 24th and 25th of August, 1846) of Commencement week, beginning precisely at 6 o'clock, A. M., on Monday morning. Attendance on both days is required.

No person will be examined for admission to the College at any other time than the commencement of a term, except in extraordinary cases.

Parents and instructers are requested not to offer candidates for examination, when it is not their intention, that, if admitted, they shall immediately join the class; and the Faculty will, for the future, decline entering on the examination of candidates under such circumstances.

Persons may be admitted to advanced standing, at any part of the College course previous to the second term of the Senior year. In order to such admission to advanced standing, the candidate must appear, on examination, to be well versed in the following studies, viz.:—

1. In the studies required for admission to the Freshman Class.

2. In all the required studies pursued by the class for which he is offered.

3. And in the elective studies of two out of the three departments of Greek, Latin, and Mathematics, pursued by that class for which he is offered. He must also pay to the Steward, at the rate of $45 per annum, according to the standing to which he is admitted.* Any scholar, however, who has a regular dismission from another college, may be admitted to the same standing, if, on examination, he is found qualified, without any pecuniary consideration.

The University is open to persons who are not candidates for a degree, and who desire to study in particular departments only: Provided, that such persons have a good moral character; that their previous acquisitions be such as are now demanded of students before admission, so far as the studies proposed to be pursued shall require; and that they be subject to all the laws of the University, in regard to diligence, good conduct, and college discipline.

Every person, before examination, must produce proper testimonials of a good moral character, and, after being accepted on examination, must give a bond, with sureties, of which one at least must belong to this Commonwealth, to the satisfaction of the Steward of the College, in the sum of four hundred dollars, to pay all charges accruing under the laws and customs of the University. A certificate that such bond has been given must be exhibited to the President, before any person can be admitted to the privileges of the institution.

The Academical year is divided into two TERMS and two VACATIONS.:—

The first Term commences on the Friday next succeeding Commencement (28th of August, 1846), and continues twenty weeks.

The first Vacation commences at the end of the first Term (January 15th, 1847), and continues six weeks.

The second Term commences at the end of the first Vacation (February 26th, 1847), and continues twenty weeks.

The second Vacation commences at the end of the second Term (July 16th), and continues until the Friday after Commencement.

The public Exhibitions are on the third Tuesday (20th) of October, the first Tuesday (4th) of May, and the last Wednesday of the second Term (14th of July).

The Dudleian Lecture is on the second Wednesday (12th) of May.

COMMENCEMENT is on the fourth Wednesday (25th) of August, 1847.

☞ The bills containing college charges are to be made out at the end of each term; and must be settled within a week from the commencement of the succeeding term.

☞ The bill for the second term of the Senior year must be paid two days at least before Commencement; and no degree can be conferred until all books are returned to the Library, and all dues to the College are discharged.

Candidates for admission to an advanced standing must have been engaged in the study of Theology as long as the class into which they propose to be received; and must pass an examination in the studies which that class has pursued.

Students are required to reside in or near Divinity College. They give bonds in the sum of $100 for the payment of term-bills, which, including charges for instruction, rent and care of room and furniture, and use of class-books, amount to $66 annually. Board may be had in the College Commons for $1·75 or $2·25 a week. LAW SCHOOL.

THE design of this Institution is to afford a complete course of legal education for gentlemen intended for the Bar in any of the United States, and also a systematic course of studies in commercial jurisprudence for those who intend to devote themselves exclusively to mercantile pursuits. The course of instruction for the Bar embraces the various branches of Public and Constitutional Law, Admiralty, Maritime, Equity, and Common Law, which are common to all the United States, with occasional illustrations of Foreign Jurisprudence. The course of instruction for the mercantile profession is more limited; and embraces the principal branches only of commercial jurisprudence, to wit, The Law of Agency, of Partnership, of Bailments, of Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes, of Insurance, of Shipping, Navigation, and other Maritime concerns, and of Sales, and, if the students desire it, also of Constitutional Law. No public instruction is given in the local or peculiar municipal jurisprudence of any particular State; but the students are assisted by the Professors, as occasion may require, in their private study of the law and practice peculiar to their own States.

The Law Library consists of about 12,000 volumes, and includes all the American Reports, and the Statutes of the United States, as well as those of all the States, a regular series of all the English Reports, including the Year-books, and also the English Statutes, as well as the principal treatises in American and English Law, besides a large collection of Scotch, French, Dutch, Spanish, Italian, and other Foreign Law, and a very ample collection of the best editions of the Roman or Civil Law, together with the works of the most celebrated commentators upon that Law.

No examination and no particular course of previous study are necessary for admission; but the student must produce testimonials of good moral character. He also gives a bond in the sum of $ 200 to the Steward, with a surety resident in Massachusetts, for the payment of College dues; or deposits, at his election, $ 150 with the Steward, at the commencement of each term, to be retained by him till the end of the term, and then to be accounted for. No student is matriculated until such testimonials are produced, and security given.

Students may enter the School in any stage of their professional studies, or mercantile pursuits. But they are advised, with a view to their own advantage and improvement, to enter at the beginning of those studies, rather than at a later period. They may also elect what particular studies they will pursue.

The fees are $ 50 a term, and $ 25 for half or any lesser fraction of a term; * for which sum, without any additional charge, students have the use of the lecture-rooms, the Law and College Libraries, and the text-books; and they are admitted free to all the public lectures in the University, comprising Lectures on Anatomy by Dr. WARREN; on Chemistry, Mineralogy, and Geology, by Dr. WEBSTER; on the Application of the Sciences to the Useful Arts, by Professor ———; on the Means of preserving Health, by Professor WARE; on History, by Professor SPARKS; on Rhetoric and Criticism, by Professor CHANNING; on the French, Spanish, German, and Italian Languages and Literatures, by Professor LONGFELLOW; on Botany, by Professor GRAY; and on Physics and Astronomy, by Professor LOVERING. They may also study any foreign language taught in the University, for $ 10 per annum. Fuel, prepared for use, is furnished, by the lessee of the College wharf, at the market price, if the students desire it.

The course of studies is so arranged as to be completed in two years and a half; and, after the first term of professional study, students are generally at liberty to join any one or more of the classes, in as many studies as they may choose, according to their view of their own wants and attainments.

* The other expenses for a term are as follows:—

Board, twenty weeks, from $ 1.75 to $ 3.50 per week,	from $ 35	to	$ 70
Room-rent, including care of room, but not making fires,	26	to	52

A Moot Court is holden in each week, at which a cause, previously given out, is argued by four students, and an opinion is delivered by the presiding Professor.

All students who have pursued their studies in the Law School for three terms, or eighteen months, and have passed a satisfactory examination ; or who, having been admitted to the Bar after a year's previous study, have subsequently pursued their studies in the Law School for one year ; are entitled, upon the certificate and recommendation of the Law Faculty, and on the payment of all dues to the College, to the degree of Bachelor of Laws.

The Introductory Lecture is given at 12 o'clock of the above day, in the Anatomical Theatre, by the Professors in rotation.

The following are the courses of Lectures delivered in this College, with the fees annexed.

		FEES.*

Midwifery and Med. Jurisprudence,	Prof. CHANNING.	10·00
Materia Medica,	Prof. BIGELOW.	10·00

The fee for matriculation is $ 3. This fee is appropriated to the increase of the Library, and is to be paid to the Dean by all persons who propose to attend any of the courses.

The Hospital and Library are gratuitous. Tickets for the Dissecting-Room, $ 5. No exertions are spared to obtain a supply of subjects according to the existing laws, and to furnish to the class the means of pursuing the important branch of practical anatomy. Board is as low as in any of our cities.

The Clinical Lectures in Medicine and Surgery are given to the class on cases in the Massachusetts General Hospital, three times a week.

* Fees for the tickets are required to be paid when the tickets are taken out, and no person can be admitted to a lecture who does not exhibit his ticket for the same when called for.

Surgical operations at the Hospital are frequent. An abundant opportunity is thus furnished to students for most important practical observation and study.

The Lectures on ANATOMY and OPERATIVE SURGERY are delivered daily. They are so arranged that the anatomy of one part of the body is made to illustrate that of another. The operations of surgery, instead of following each other in a routine which is sometimes tedious to the student, are intermixed with the anatomical demonstrations of parts concerned in operations. All the new operations are particularly shown.

The demonstrations of anatomy, and those of the operations, are aided by a large cabinet. The Professor in this department has added to his extensive collection a number of valuable preparations in wax, to show various tumors and diseases of the skin; some colored casts in plaster of Paris; many beautiful magnified drawings of subjects in anatomy and surgery; and also the newly invented surgical instruments.

The accommodations for private dissection are ample, and as reasonable in regard to expense as in any medical school in the country. No means are spared in obtaining a sufficient supply of subjects for dissection, and the students are aided in their dissections and preparations by an able and attentive demonstrator.

MIDWIFERY and MEDICAL JURISPRUDENCE form one department. Lectures are regularly given on the Principles and Practice of Midwifery. Separate Lectures are given in Operative Midwifery. Abundant opportunity is furnished to each member of the class to learn the use of instruments. The Lectures are illustrated by models made in Florence, and by plates. The Lectures on Medical Jurisprudence are very much confined to the statement of principles, which are illustrated by cases.

The Lectures on MATERIA MEDICA consist of the history of the various articles used in medicine, their physical and medicinal properties, their application to the treatment of disease, and the forms, modes, and quantities in which they are administered. Specimens of each medicine, and colored engravings of medicinal plants, are exhibited at the Lectures, while an opportunity to observe the effect of those most in use is afforded in the Clinical Lectures given by the Professor at the Hospital.

The Lectures on the PRINCIPLES OF SURGERY AND CLINICAL SURGERY continue four months, during which the students visit the surgical patients at the Hospital and attend all the operations.

In the Clinical Lectures, the Professor speaks of every case that is admitted into the surgical department of the Hospital; describes the disease; gives the diagnosis and prognosis at some length, with the mode of treatment. In the Clinical Lectures are described the surgical operations which are performed, with such remarks as to the mode of performing them, and the particular manner in which each operation is done, as are thought likely to be useful and instructive to the students.

A collection, made in Europe, of plaster models, colored to represent various surgical diseases, has been recently introduced into this department.

The CHEMICAL LECTURES are continued during four months, four Lectures being given each week. The chemical apparatus, to which additions are constantly made, is very extensive, and enables the Professor to illustrate the various subjects with all the requisite experiments.

The course of the THEORY AND PRACTICE OF PHYSIC embraces the Lectures given at the Medical College, on the general principles of Pathology and Therapeutics, and on the history and treatment of particular diseases, and the Clinical Lectures given at the Massachusetts General Hospital. A collection of preparations in plaster, to the number of about fifty, admirably colored, has been recently imported from Paris, for the use of this department. These preparations serve to exhibit, not only the morbid anatomy of the particular diseases of which they are examples, but also constitute a series of illustrations of the various elementary forms of disease. Morbid post-mortem appearances, in recent specimens, form very important means of pathological instruction in this department.

The Clinical Lectures at the Hospital are given twice a week, and occupy two hours each. Students have an opportunity of visiting all the cases, and of observing and learning the symptoms and treatment of each case, and particularly of the exploration of the body, for the PHYSICAL SIGNS of disease, by palpation, auscultation, and percussion.

Taking into view the amount of instruction given in this School, the splendid and extensive apparatus with which it is furnished, its connection with the numerous cases and operations of one of the best conducted hospitals in the United States, together with the general thorough acquisitions and high respectability of its graduates, it may be doubted whether any seminary in the country offers the means of a more complete professional education, than may be obtained in the Medical School of Boston.

STATUTE REGULATIONS RELATIVE TO MEDICAL DEGREES.

The Faculty of Medicine consists of the President, and the Medical Professors and Lecturers, one of whom, to be chosen by themselves, shall always be Dean. Students shall matriculate with the Dean, by entering their names in a book kept by him, (which shall contain an obligation that they will submit to the laws of the University and to the direction of the Faculty of Medicine,) and by paying three dollars. The Faculty shall hold two examinations annually for the medical degree, at which three members shall be a quorum for business. The first examination shall be held on the day next succeeding that on which the winter courses end, at ten o'clock, A. M. The second, on the Monday next but one preceding the fourth Wednesday in August, at ten o'clock, A. M. In extraordinary cases, the Faculty may hold meetings for examination at other times.

Each candidate shall furnish evidence that he is twenty-one years old. He shall have attended two full courses of the Lectures in this College. A similar course in any other College or University may take the place of one of these. A third course may be attended without fee, provided that no two courses of Lectures shall be admitted to qualify students for gratuitous admission to Lectures and graduation in this School, which have not been attended in separate years, or at least six months from each other, and in Schools in which the teachers are not less than six, and in which the time occupied by Lectures is not less than four months. He shall have studied three full years with a regular physician, and be of good moral character. If not graduated in the Arts, he shall satisfy the Faculty in respect to his knowledge of the Latin language and experimental philosophy. Certificates of competent persons will be received as satisfactory proof of these facts. Four weeks before examination, he shall hand or send to the Dean a medical dissertation written by himself, — certificates of time from the physicians with whom he has studied, — tickets to the Lectures, and the graduating fee, which is twenty dollars. The Dean shall submit the dissertations to the Faculty. Each candidate having complied with these statutes shall be examined separately in Anatomy, Physiology, Chemistry, Materia Medica, Pharmacy, Midwifery, Surgery, and the Theory and Practice of Medicine, and upon his dissertation. The decision in regard to each shall be made and declared to him at the close of his examination, by the votes of the major part of the members of the Faculty present, and if favorable, shall be recorded by the Dean, and by him certified to the President, to be laid before the Senatus Academicus. Those candidates who have received from the Senatus Academicus the final approbation and degree will, after the spring graduation, receive their diplomas from the Dean; and those who may be approved at the summer examination will receive their degrees and diplomas in Cambridge on Commencement day.

The Lectures for Medical Students, on the various branches mentioned in the Statutes, are delivered at the Massachusetts Medical College in Boston. They commence annually on the first Wednesday in November, and continue four months.

Students attending the Lectures of the Professor of Anatomy and Surgery are admitted to see the Surgical Practice in the Massachusetts General Hospital; and those attending the Lectures of the Professor of the Theory and Practice of Medicine are admitted to see the Medical Practice in the same.

The Hollis Professor of Natural Philosophy will admit Medical Students to attend the Lectures on Physics and Astronomy. The Lectures are delivered in the Philosophy Chamber in University Hall, at such times as the Professor may give notice from term to term. A Medical Student, applying for admission to these Lectures, must produce to the Professor above mentioned a certificate of his matriculation from the Dean of the Faculty of Medicine, and another certificate from the Steward of the University that he has paid him seven dollars for the Treasurer. Other persons may be admitted to the same Lectures, with the approbation of the President, on producing a certificate from the Steward that they have paid ten dollars.

LIBRARY.

The University Library is divided into four departments, viz., Theological, Medical, Law, and Public; which last, besides books in all other departments of learning, embraces also an extensive collection of works on Theology, Medicine, and Law.

The Theological Library is in Divinity Hall. Persons entitled to its privileges must be connected with the Divinity School. Number of books, about 3,000. They consist of valuable select works, principally in modern Theology, with some of the early Fathers in the original. Means have been recently devised to add to the Library valuable modern works in Theology and Morals, as they are published.

The Medical Library is in the Medical College in Boston. It is placed there for the convenience of students attending the Medical Lectures. The number of books is about ten or twelve hundred. It contains all the elementary works which are the most important and the most used by students. Besides these, it has the writings of the early Greek and Latin medical fathers, and the works of the later medical classics; and, with the latter, it contains numerous valuable modern works.

The Law Library is in Dane Law College. It is designed for the officers and students of the Law Institution. Number of books, about 12,000. It contains most of the valuable works in English and American Law, and in the Civil Law, together with a variety of others by writers of France, Germany, and Spain.

The Public or College Library is in Gore Hall. This is much larger than the others, and is rapidly increasing. It is for the common use of the whole University, in this respect differing from the other branches of the University Library. The total number of books is about 50,000. Of these, 2,500 are allowed for duplicates, and 1,000 for the Boylston Medical Library, which is immediately connected with it.

LAWS RELATIVE TO THE PATRON.

[EXTRACTED FROM THE GENERAL LAWS OF THE UNIVERSITY.]

SOME gentleman of Cambridge, not of the Faculty, shall be appointed by the Corporation to be Patron of all students, not of this Commonwealth, who belong to places more than one hundred miles distant from Cambridge, and shall have charge of all the funds of such students.

The Patron shall have particular instruction from the authorities of the University concerning the kind of expenses allowed to be incurred by the students whose funds are in his hands; and he shall make no disbursements and pay no bills inconsistent with such instructions, and whatever bills he may pay shall contain a distinct specification and charge of every article.

The Patron shall give a detailed account of the expenses incurred by each student under his care to the Faculty, and to the Corporation, when required.

The parent or guardian of each student shall be informed what are the necessary annual expenses included in the term-bills; and he shall also be informed by the Patron what funds for the support and use of his son or ward must be remitted to him; and the Patron is to have the whole control of the same, under the direction of the Faculty.

No student, subject to this law, shall be permitted to continue at the University, unless he comply with it; and every such student is to be charged in his term-bills at the rate of six dollars a year, towards a compensation to the Patron.

No such student is allowed to contract any debt without an order from the Patron.

The foregoing provisions of law, notwithstanding their obvious utility, having for some time been falling into disuse, it has been judged highly expedient by the Faculty and Corporation of the University that they should be revived.

The sum provided by the fifth section of the above-cited law, namely, six dollars per annum for each student, was found an inadequate compensation for the labor and attention required for the faithful discharge of the duties of Patron; and the Corporation have authorized him to charge a commission of two and a half per centum on his disbursements.

Inasmuch as circumstances may render it unnecessary or inconvenient to apply the foregoing law in all cases, it has been determined for the present that those students only should be placed under the care of the Patron whose parents or guardians shall signify to the President their desire to that effect, and their willingn ıs to allow the commission above mentioned for his services.

Stephen T. Farwell, Esq., of Cambridge, has been appointed Patron, and is confidently recommended to parents and guardians as a gentleman in whose discretion and fidelity to the trust entire confidence may be placed.
